Re: United States v. Delaney
1:20-CR-000335-TJM
Letter Request Directing Status Letter from First Light Psychological Services

Dear Judge McAvoy,

I represent the Defendant, Jacob Delaney and the above matter. Since being placed on house arrest, Jacob has received counseling and psychological services through First Light Psychological Services (First Light), through a program coordinated by Pretrial Services in the Eastern District of New York. We write to request the court direct First Light to provide a letter to me for inclusion in our sentencing memorandum that describes the duration and kind of treatment Jacob has received from First Light, the frequency of his sessions, and stating whether Jacob has actively participated in and attended those sessions over the stated duration.

We initially made this request to First Light directly and were advised they could not provide the letter or even speak to me without permission from Pretrial Services. Pretrial Services advised me that only the court can order the requested letter. As a result, we make the instant request.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Respectfully,

Iseman PLLC
